Greek Cypriots Urged to Get Soviet Arms

By HAL MCCLURE

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Buoyed by a pledge of Soviet support, Greek Cypriots are urging President Makarios to go to Moscow and negotiate an arms deal with the Russians.

Greek Cypriots of every political shade jubilantly greeted the Soviet Union's offer to help if Cyprus is invaded, and Soviet Premier Khrushchev's warning to Turkey that an attack on Cyprus might boomerang.

The right-wing weekly Ethniki hailed the weekend developments as "a great turning point" for the Greek Cypriot cause. It even suggested that Makarios, a Greek Orthodox archbishop, bring Communists into his government to show his gratitude. Other editorials called upon Makarios to fly immediately to Moscow.

There has been no official response to the Soviet. One report said Foreign Minister Spyros Kyprianou would leave for Moscow Friday to begin talks on military aid.

The U.N. peace effort suffered an unexpected setback when Finnish mediator Sakari S. Tuomioja suffered a mild stroke in Geneva Sunday a few hours before his departure for another round of talks in Athens, Ankara and Nicosia.

There was speculation that U.N. Secretary-General U Thant would appoint a new mediator or take over Tuomioja's work himself. The Finnish diplomat had hoped to win acceptance of a compromise proposed by former U.S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson, President Johnson's special Cyprus envoy.

Acheson has been meeting separately with Greek and Turkish representatives in Geneva. His plan calls for Cyprus, union with Greece and special safeguards for the Turkish Cypriot minority, including a Turkish military base on the island.

Tuomioja's illness comes as a particular blow because there were signs last week that Greece and Turkey might accept a solution along the Acheson lines, although there has been no approval from the Makarios government.

The Kremlin's stand is likely to make the Greek Cypriots even more intractable. The Soviet statement offered to begin aid talks immediately.

Alpine Bus Accident Reaches 17

BOURG ST. MAURICE, France (AP)—The death count rose to 17 today in an Alpine bus accident which turned a children's vacation outing into tragedy.

Doctors in the hospital of Bourg St. Maurice worked to save the lives of 16 others seriously injured when the bus went off the road Sunday and plunged 30 feet into a ravine.

The bus was carrying vacationing French youngsters from a shepherd's festival back to their camp at the summer resort at Seez near the Swiss frontier.

The driver, Armand Lotherier, 51, who suffered severe injuries, told police he was forced off the road by an approaching car.

The bus crashed through a guard rail and landed upside down at the bottom of the ravine.

All the victims were French, many from the northern city of Arras.

Twenty youngsters who were aboard the bus belonged to an Arras society called "Youth and Joy."

Military Mediator in Cyprus III

GENEVA (AP) — The condition of U.N. Cyprus mediator Sakari S. Tuomioja suddenly worsened and he underwent emergency surgery for a blood clot on the brain early today.

A United Nations communiqué on the 52-year-old Finnish diplomat said: "The condition of Mr. Tuomioja had deteriorated in the course of the night. A surgical operation has been performed this morning by Prof. Aloys Werner. The doctors are very reluctant to make a prognosis."

RFK Has an Opponent If He Runs

NEW YORK (AP)—Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy met with Mayor Robert F. Wagner today in a conference which bore the earmarks of a prelude to formal announcement that Kennedy will run for the Senate.

Kennedy brought along his wife, Ethel, and a brother-in-law, Stephen Smith, a likely choice to manage a Kennedy campaign.

The attorney general flew here unannounced and immediately drove to Grace Mansion, the official residence of Wagner, the state's leading Democrat.

There, however, the Kennedy group was kept waiting for an hour for Wagner.

Neither the attorney general nor Wagner issued any comment as they began the meeting.

Kennedy is reported to have the backing of party leaders in counties which have well over a majority of the 1,144 votes in the Democratic state nominating convention here Sept. 1.

He has said he would not enter the race without the open approval of Wagner.

The attorney general ended a sailing cruise along the Maine coast and flew to Cape Cod, Mass., Sunday to talk with his brother-in-law, R. Sargent Shriver and Smith.

The attorney general then came to New York today.

Amid the growing support for a Kennedy candidacy, Rep. Samuel S. Stratton of upstate Amsterdam formally announced for the nomination. Such is the measure of the Kennedy movement's strength that Stratton's announcement included an attack on his undeclared opponent.

Stratton said in his announcement Sunday that nominating Kennedy would give the Republicans a "million-dollar issue" for the campaign.

This was a reference to the fact that Kennedy lives in Virginia and maintains a voting residence in his native Massachusetts. Supporters of Kennedy say that, under the U.S. Constitution, he would be eligible to run for the Senate if he established a residence in New York.

Parents Never Had It So Good During the Summer Vacation, So Says a 10-Year-Old Boy

By VIVIAN BROWN

WILTON, Conn. (AP) — A boy's summer vacation isn't as long or as wonderful as most people think, a 10-year-old said. Faced with a list of chores that began with "Weed the beans and turnip greens" and ended with "Don't forget to mow the front lawn," he lamented that it is "Parents who never had it so good."

"Everybody think kids have it great in summer. I wish I were your age," they keep saying. But kids have more troubles than anybody, because adults give them all the chores they don't feel like doing. It's adults who have it great because they can order kids to do all the work," he says.

Asked to list his "troubles," he did so gladly. "You come downstairs on a beautiful morning all set to go frogging or something and your mother says, 'Come back here, eat your breakfast and clean up your room.' By the time you are finished, it is raining."

"Your grandmother comes to visit and all she wants to see on television is 'Password,' 'Love of Life,' 'Edge of Night' and doctor programs your parents don't want you to see."

"You go for a ride on your bike, and teenagers on motorcycles try to scare you to death. You help your best friend build a tree fort on his property."

Unrelated Riots Hit Over Nation, Worst Was of Racial Nature in Dixmoor, Illinois

By SEYMOUR M. HERSH

DIXMOOR, Ill. (AP) — One thousand angry Negroes rioted for five hours Sunday night and early today before 200 shotgun carrying police restored order to this predominantly Negro suburb south of Chicago.

More than 50 persons—most of them white—were injured when Negroes stoned their autos. Twenty-five Negroes were arrested after the first racial outbreak this summer in the Chicago area.

At least 39 persons required hospital care and four of them were hospitalized in good condition.

Seven of the injured were under 10 years old, including a 7-week-old infant.

At the height of the rioting, police blocked the six block area where about 20 autos were stoned. Tear gas bombs were used to break up the mobs.

"There was terrific violence in those streets," Hershmann said. "We expect it to continue."

Sheriff Ogilvie, in charge of the policemen at the riot scene, estimated 1,000 Negroes took part. Ogilvie ordered a heavy patrol in the neighborhood to prevent further rioting.

Police said the disturbance had been brewing since Saturday night when a Negro woman was accused of trying to steal a bottle of gin from the liquor store. Negroes said the woman was beaten by the white store owner in the quarrel.

Protesting Negroes demonstrated Saturday night and returned Sunday night in greater force. "The civil rights leaders lost control," said Hershmann, who had been on duty in the area for two days.

Hershmann said at one time Sunday night civil rights leaders used police microphones urging the crowds to disperse. "But, they (the crowds) just wanted violence," he said. Most of the demonstrators were youths in their teens, he said.

The mob set fire to a vacant, newly constructed home in an attempt, officials said, to lure police and fire officials into the area. Fire trucks called from neighboring communities were among the first vehicles to be stoned.

James Malnor, assistant fire chief of Dixmoor, said, "I'll tell you, they're like savages." Malnor was cut on the face by a flying brick.

The home burned to the ground and another next door was damaged as it took firemen an hour and a half, escorted by 30 policemen, to reach the scene and put out the flames.

NEW YORK (AP) — The city had a noisy weekend of unrelated demonstrations — some peaceful, some not — plus youthful rioting and looting ater a dance. SATURDAY: Police battled demonstrators protesting U.S. involvement in Viet Nam, and there was a protest against alleged police brutality in the Bronx.

SUNDAY: Greek-Americans staged a protest parade and hunger strike against Turkish military activities in Cyprus; several Broadway store windows were smashed and looted by teen-agers; Harlem churches staged a peaceful rally to repudiate racial violence.

The Viet Nam demonstration flared into a pitched battle with police. Several of the 250 demonstrators were knocked to the ground — to the cheers and taunts of spectators. Police arrested 40 persons, including four just returned from an illegal trip to Cuba.

The marchers, members of a self-described "May 2" movement, named for the date it was formed, tried to demonstrate in Times Square. Rallies have been banned there since the spring of 1962 when 42 persons were arrested while protesting the late President John F. Kennedy's decision to resume nuclear testing in the atmosphere.

Police told the group they could rally at Hammarskjold Plaza, across from the United Nations, seven blocks east. The marchers reluctantly headed east, but scuffles with police broke out at three intersections and at the Plaza.

Police described many of the participants as members of the Progressive Labor Movement, the Fair Play for Cuba Committee, and other organizations.

About 25 members of the Congress of Racial Equality picketed a Bronx police station protesting the shooting of a Negro youth and a Puerto Rican youth by a white police officer.

For about five hours pickets distributed leaflets calling for the suspension of the patrolman. Police said the Puerto Rican youth was involved in a stolen car incident and the Negro teenager was fleeing from the scene of a supermarket robbery. Neither youth was hurt seriously.

Near the United Nations Sunday, 18 young men and women, many in the second day of a hunger strike, led a parade of 750 Greek-Americans protesting Turkish military activities in Cyprus.

About 3 a.m. Sunday, a dance broke up at the Palm Gardens on West 52nd Street, and from 1,000 to 1,500 patrons emerged. About 500 of the patrons, mostly teen-age Negroes, roamed Broadway, smashing several store windows and looting the window displays a few blocks north of Times Square. Metal trash baskets were heaved through the windows. Police said the youths dropped most of the items taken from the shops as officers arrived.

Illegal Votes Discovered by Probe

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — An investigation has turned up two and possibly three cases of voting irregularities in the runoff Democratic primary last week. Prosecutor David Whittington said.

Whittington said the probe had established that at least two persons had voted under other names.

Jacob King, chairman of the Garland County Democratic Central Committee. Whittington and Raymond Hall, committee secretary, conducted the investigation Saturday. King had said Friday he had uncovered evidence of duplicate voting.

Whittington said King would check records in an effort to establish the identity of those who cast fraudulent ballots.

In one case, King said, a woman appeared to vote and it was found that someone else already had voted in her name. She was allowed to cast a ballot, King said. In a similar case, a voter did not cast a ballot.

The death brought to six the number of persons killed in accidents from 6 p.m. Friday until midnight Sunday an Associated Press count shows.

Saturday three Michigan residents were killed in a two-car head-on collision on U.S. 67 two miles north of Bald Knob. The victims were Eunice Cullum 48 his son David 15 of South Haven, Mich., and Roberto Gonzalez about 35 of Detroit. The Cullums and Gonzalez were in separate vehicles. Asks Business to Battle Communism

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Texas millionaire H. L. Hunt called on businessmen Sunday night to take a more active role in the fight against Communism.

Hunt said Americans must join in a battle of words and ideas to fight Communism otherwise it will destroy the nation's free enterprise system and its churches.

He spoke at a rally sponsored by the Keep Arkansas Christian organization. The group was started to fight the proposed legalized gambling amendment to the Arkansas Constitution which will be voted on in the Nov. 3 general election.

Hunt did not mention gambling in his talk.

Hunt said businessmen had been led by socialists to believe that if they make any display of patriotism they would lose customers and upset stockholders.

He praised Gen. Douglas MacArthur and said when the late general "spoke out against any substitute for victory it cost him his last great command and cost the nation dearly."

Little Rock clothier Jimmy Karam secretary of the Keep Arkansas Christian group asked the audience to fight the proposed gambling amendment.

Congress Will Be in Session Another Week

By JOHN BECKLER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Majority Leader Mike Mansfield called Democratic senators into conference today to announce abandonment of hope for a windup of the 1964 Congress session before next week's Democratic National Convention.

Mansfield told reporters in advance at the meeting he would alert his colleagues that the Senate would reconvene Aug. 31 after recessing for the convention and that it then would "remain in session until we finish what we have to do."

He said that could mean that the session would last "well into September and if it's necessary to go into October we'll do it."

Mansfield said the filibuster fight being waged by a group of Senate liberals against a move by Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois to delay court-ordered reapportionment of state legislatures has eliminated the last hope of adjourning Congress by Saturday.

Earlier Mansfield had spoken of a "long shot chance" that something might be worked out but he eliminated this hope in his later statement.

Congressional leaders still are seeking a solution to the deadlock over Dirksen's apportionment delaying proposal, and Dirksen says he intends to get a vote on it no matter how long it takes. Sen. Paul H. Douglas D-Ill., one of the opponents says the fight will last "until we win."

Faubus to Continue to Support Colony

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus said here Sunday he would continue to push for more improvements at the Arkansas Children's Colony which he called a great institution.

He dedicated a new swimming pool at the colony built with funds raised by the Arkansas Jurisdiction of the United Commercial Travelers.

"I will recommend as many million dollars as it takes until there is enough facilities to take care of all children in Arkansas who need it," Faubus said.

The colony for mentally retarded children will soon have facilities for 740 children but more than 1000 will still be on the waiting list.

The governor called the founding of the colony "one of the most wonderful things" of his administration.

An AP news release of August 11 told of an 11-year-old girl in Schenectady, N.Y., who had opened a 9-hole golf course in her back yard to raise money for the John F. Kennedy Memorial Library.

The enterprising young lady, Linda Ward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ward, is the granddaughter of Mrs. Finley Ward, former Hope resident, and the late Mr. Ward. According to the story which appeared in the Star, Linda charges neighborhood children 10 cents a game and had collected about $14 for the library to be constructed in Cambridge, Mass.

Hoffa Sentenced to 20 Years, Fined $10,000

CHICAGO (AP) — Teamsters President James R. Hoffa was sentenced today to 20 years in prison for fraud in obtaining huge loans from his union multimillion-dollar pension fund.

He also was fined $10,000. The 20-year sentence was broken down into five years on each of the four counts on which he was convicted.

Top Rankings in Farming Shown

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department has come up with a box score showing rankings of the top 10 states in returns for 25 important farm products.

California ranked first last year in receipts for all commodities combined, followed in order by Iowa, Texas, Illinois, Minnesota, Kansas, Nebraska, Indiana, Missouri and North Carolina.

Iowa ranked first in returns from both cattle and hogs. California was first in eggs, greenhouse and nursery products, hay, turkeys, sugar beets, tomatoes and barley. Wisconsin was tops in dairy products Texas in cotton, cottonseed and sorghum.

Kansas in wheat, Illinois in corn and soybeans, North Carolina in tobacco, Georgia in broilers, peanuts and forestry products Idaho in potatoes, Florida in oranges, Arkansas in rice, Colorado in sheep and lambs and Washington in apples.

It is designed as a boon to distance travelers seeking to avoid involvement in the metropolitan morass.

It brings into closer relationship the business and social interests of the capital's satellite communities.

It already has generated shopping centers and service establishments and enhanced property values along its route.

The dream of a fast and comfortable passage around Washington — beset by government-inspired traffic and complicated by circles and parks — has been germinating for more than 35 years.

As far back as 1928 officials of the National Capital Park and Planning Commission asked Congress for a by-pass around the district, whose highways even then were considered crowded. Congress failed to approve the plan, but the idea did not die.

Actually, the gigantic undertaking was beyond the reach of neighboring Maryland and Virginia until passage of the federal Highway Act of 1956 which allowed the federal government to pay 50 per cent of the cost of interstate highway projects.

Removal of barricades on the last portion of the Maryland section today completes what is known as the outer loop.

Still to come is an inner loop of thoroughways piercing the heart of the capital. This is planned as a complex of depressed roadways, including a tunnel under the Lincoln Memorial, another at the foot of the Capitol and a network of ramps on the Washington side of the new Theodore Roosevelt Bridge that spans the Potomac River to Virginia.

Auto Industry in Offer to Union Workers

DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co. today offered its 165,000 production workers a broad new contract calling for overall average hourly wage increases of 19 cents over the next three years along with improvements in pension and health insurance plans.

In addition to the 19-cent increase which would bring Ford's average hourly wage to $3.34 an hour Ford also offered to transfer an additional 9 cents of its present cost-of-living allowance to basic wage scales.

The 23-page proposal was handed to the United Automobile Workers Union as the eighth week of bargaining began on a replacement for a contract which runs out Aug. 31.

There was no immediate comment from UAW leaders pending a study of the Ford proposals.

Earlier General Motors offered its 350,000 employees covered by the current UAW contract annual wage increases ranging from 6 to 13 cents an hour increased vacation and holiday pay and free tuition-free educational opportunity.

Chrysler was to present its contract proposals later today.

The GM proposals also call for increased retirement benefits—including an early retirement incentive—widows' benefits and company-paid improved group insurance.

Hurler Ties Record of Pacific Loop

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ken Rowe of Spokane pitched in his 70th Pacific Coast League baseball game Sunday night, tying the league record, as the Indians downed the visiting Portland Beavers 4-2.

In other single PCL games, San Diego beat Hawaii 9-2 at Honolulu, Seattle blanked the visiting Tacoma Giants 3-0 and Salt Lake City downed Oklahoma City 2-0 at Salt Lake.

There were two doubleheaders. Arkansas beat Indianapolis 7-4 and 4-3 at Little Rock. Denver scored a 3-0 first game victory at Dallas but the Rangers came back for a 6-3 triumph in the nightcap.

Rowe entered the Spokane contest in the ninth inning and earned his 15th victory of the season. He relieved southpaw Pete Richter after Portland tied the score 2-2 on Tommy Agee's homer, a single and a double, in the bottom of the inning. Jim Lefebvre ended the game with a two-out, two-run homer.

Hal Kolstad held Tacoma to three hits in pitching his sixth shutout of the season for Seattle. He walked none and struck out seven. It was his 11th victory in 20 decisions and the 17th time Tacoma has been shut out this season.

John Flavin pitched a two-hit shutout for Salt Lake, allowing only one Oklahoma to reach base after the third inning. The Bees scored their runs in the third on a wild pitch by Bob Sturdivant, a sacrifice fly and a single.

A three-run homer by Fred Walters gave Arkansas its first game victory. It came in the eighth inning of the scheduled seven-inning contest. Bob Malkmus was aboard on a double and Costen Shockley on an intentional walk.

Morris Stevens had a shutout until the last inning of the nightcap, when Ken Berry homered with two Indianapolis men aboard to tie the score. Arkansas scored the winning run on another intentional walk to Shockley and two singles.

Phil Niekro gave up six hits in pitching Denver to its shutout victory over Dallas. The Bears scored an unearned run in the fifth and added two runs in the sixth on a hit batsman, a sacrifice and three singles.

Dallas won the nightcap on a two-out, three-run homer by Ron Debus in the eighth inning of the scheduled seven-inning contest. The Rangers tied the score in the seventh on a double by Debus and a single by Ricardo Joseph.

Dan Neville pitched the Padres to victory at Honolulu. He gave up 10 hits in hurling his 12th victory against nine defeats.

listed a residence in New York State by election day. His opponents contend that New York State laws have stricter requirements, which make Kennedy ineligible.

Stratton said in his announcement on the WCBS-TV "Newsmakers" program that the state should be represented by someone who lives in the state and "who understands its problems."

He said nomination of Kennedy could hurt President Johnson's chances of carrying New York State. Johnson has declared himself neutral in the contest.

Stratton said his supporters will conduct a floor fight at the state convention, if necessary.

Latest declarations of support for Kennedy came from a group of 12 prominent Democrats and from Edward N. Costikyan, Democratic leader of New York County—Manhattan.

The last public word from Kennedy was his week-old declaration that he would not consider running without "express approval" by Mayor Robert F. Wagner, the state's leading Democrat.

Wagner, who has repeatedly spoken favorably of Kennedy as a possible candidate, continued to withhold an endorsement.

Counter Offer Planned by Auto Unions

By A. F. MAHAN

DETROIT (AP) — With President Walter P. Reuther of the United Auto Workers Union already predicting they "will not be realistic," the industry's Big Three planned to present their counter-offers for new labor contracts today.

General Motors, Ford and Chrysler kept their proposals secret in advance of their presentation to the UAW.

Reuther's advance prediction that they "will not be realistic" was in anticipation that the counter-offers would not match the union's broad demands for higher wages, larger pensions, earlier retirement and other gains.

While not putting a dollars-and-cents cost on the union's widespread demands, all three automakers have termed them unreasonable.

In a speech at Cleveland Friday night, Reuther said the union has a $65-million strike fund "and we'll spend it all and borrow more, if necessary, to win a fair share" of what he termed the industry's "fantastic, unbelievable profits."

He called for an "overwhelming strike vote" by UAW members there to back up union negotiators. Polling of union members has been ordered among workers of all three companies.

The union, which never has accepted the first offer made last week demanded company counter-offers, insisting that time was fast fading if a strike were to be avoided.

New contract bargaining now is in its seventh week. Current three-year pacts run out at GM, Ford and Chrysler Aug. 31.

As "an absolute minimum," the UAW is demanding an economic gain of 4.9 per cent over current average hourly wages in the auto industry. The Bureau of Labor Statistics figures the current average hourly wage in the auto industry at

Miss Sanders Honored
A miscellaneous shower honoring Miss Beth Ann Sanders of Norphlet, bride-elect of Ford Ward, was given at the W.O.W. Hall in Hope, July 31st.

As the guest entered they were greeted at the door by Mrs. F.J. Bruce and invited to sign the guest book presided over by Mrs. Robert Martin.

An oval table covered in a full length pink net over taffeta cloth and centered with an opened pink satin umbrella held the gifts for the honoree, who wore a tulle and two piece dress, with a white skirt and pastel multicolored over blouse of shirtdress with a pink carnation pinned at her shoulder.

The honoree's mother, Mrs. R. A. Sanders of Norphlet, Mrs. Travis Ward, mother of the groom elect, and Mrs. H. M. Ward, grandmother of the groom elect were pinned with white carnation corsages.

Games were conducted by Mrs. Lenora Clark, after which the honoree opened the many lovely and useful gifts.

The guests were invited to the serving table, unique with its floor length white and net taffeta cloth, with tiny pink satin rosebuds attached to the skirt of the cloth.

The table was centered with a pink container of periwinkles and English Ivy flanked by two pink candles in silver holders. Presiding at the punch bowl were Mrs. Lloyd Tarpley and assisting with the individual green-tinted cakes with wedding bells was Mrs. Clifford Messer. Nuts and mints were also served.

The honoree was also presented a miniature bridal tree to which pink net rice bags and tin gold wedding rings were attached as a remembrance of this occasion. Approximately fifty people attended the party.

The hostesses were Mrs. Billy Wayne Mitchell, Mrs. T. J. Barber, Mrs. F. J. Bruce, Mrs. Paul Cobb, Mrs. Lloyd Tarpley, Mrs. Robert Martin, Mrs. Arlis Honea, Mrs. Lenora Clark and Mrs. Clifford Messer.

The group of 30 also wrote recipes for the future bride. Coffee, punch, and delicious assorted tidbits were served in a setting of white stocks and daisies.

Later that day, Miss Cecilia Cox entertained with a bridge party for Miss Park in Fulton. Besides the honoree, others receiving corsages were mother, Mrs. A. L. Park, and her grandmother, Mrs. Tom Kinser. Bridge was played at two tables, and the high scorer was Mrs. Park while Mrs. Kinser won the consolation prize. A

Faubus Says A Report Off Base

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus said Saturday night that reports that he and two other Southern governors would support Republican Barry Goldwater were way off base.

Claude Sitton of the New York Times News Service quoted "highly reliable" sources as saying Faubus, Alabama Gov. George Wallace and Mississippi Gov. Paul Johnson made their intentions known at a confidential meeting Friday night at New Orleans.

In denying the report Faubus said "Mr. Sitton is way off base. He has either gotten some unreliable information or is drawing his own conclusions."

He refused to comment on what took place at the New Orleans meeting.

Earlier Saturday Faubus said "There is quite a bit we could say but we are not saying anything more at present."

A gift of silver was presented to the honored guest. Cold drinks, coffee, and cake were served.

Mrs. Jewell Still, Jr., Honored With Shower

Mrs. Still, wearing a tulle and frock of pink, was presented a bridal corsage by the hostess. On the gift table was an arrangement consisting of a lifelike miniature church, surrounded by wedding bells, white candles, and a palm tree, arranged by Mrs. Lois Shirley.

Individual iced cakes, nuts and punch were served to sixty guests from a table covered with a white linen cloth and centered with white flowers.

Those attending from out-of-town were Mrs. H. C. Bright, Mrs. S. A. Moore, Mrs. D. B. Edmondson, Mrs. Gerald Reyenga, and Mrs. Harry Attebury.

Hostesses were: Mrs. Lois Shirley, Reta Byers, Gwen Allen, Betty Rowe, Sue Samuels, Leta Sanders Eudora Hamm, Wanda Hartfield, Hazel Cross, Catherine Ingram and Vivian Mohan.

SIDE GLANCES

"Would you care to offer a few words of encouragement?"

"DEAR ABBY"

WORDS OF WISDOM!

By Abigail Van Buren

Dear Abby: My husband told me about a silly dream he had last week. He dreamed that this friend of ours came to our house with no clothes on. She just walked in naked and sat down in the parlor. I was upstairs at the time. She told my husband that I had told her to come over with no clothes on. My husband came running upstairs and said to me, "Why did you tell her to come here naked?" And that was the end of the dream.

My husband thought this was very funny. But the more I thought about it, the less funny I thought it was. Why should my husband be dreaming about another woman with no clothes on? I discussed it with a friend of mine who is known for a good sense and she said I shouldn't worry because if my husband had had any out-of-the-way thoughts about this woman he never would have told me the dream. I remain—

UNCONVINCED

Dear Unconvinced: Your friend is wise. Believe her.

Dear Abby: I have been going with Jerome for three years. I date others, but Jerome is the man I want to marry. He says he loves me, but he only proposes to me when he is out with the boys and has had a few drinks. Then he calls me up in the middle of the night and asks me to marry him. He doesn't drink at all when he's with me. How can I get him to ask me to marry him when he is sober?

WANTS JEROME

Dear Wants: You probably can't. And even if you could, he sounds like the type who'd have to get half-plastered before he could get the nerve to go through with it. Marriage must be lived in the cold, clear, sober light of reality. Promises that come out of bottles are usually the first to go down the drain. Scratch Jerome.

Dear Abby: My husband and I were intrigued with your suggestions on how to keep a neighbor's chickens out of one's yard. My husband wants to know if you have any suggestions on how to keep our neighbor's ducks from fouling up our horse's watering trough. The ducks come over and swim in it, leaving feathers and other dirty matter behind so that the trough has to be emptied and cleaned out every day. Is there a solution to this problem?

GENESEE, IDAHO

Dear Gen: Horse sense tells me it's duck soup!

Confidential To A Score of Clergymen and Many More Laymen: When 11-year-old Debbie wrote to ask why, since there was a Mother's Day and a Father's Day, there was no Children's Day, I replied: "There is. And it falls on each child's birthday."

I stand corrected. There is indeed an official Children's Day. And it falls on the second Sunday in June! Twenty swats with a rolled-up calendar for Abby.

Auto Industry

the GM announcement that the automotive BIG Three's proposals "will not be realistic."

All here proposed to continue the current cost-of-living escalator on which wages rise or fall with changes in the index of the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

And all three offered to write into the basic wage scale the 9 cents added to paychecks since current contracts were written in 1961. In other words, workers could lose only 5 of the 14 cents they now get under this clause, if the cost of living nosedived.

The companies offered to increase pensions from $2.80 monthly for each year of service to $3.25. At Chrysler, at least, the increase would apply only to workers retiring in the future. The UAW has strongly demanded that the pensions of those already retired be raised, as well.

They also proposed retirement—if mutually agreeable—at age 60. Retirement now is possible at 65, mandatory at 68.

In addition, the companies offered an incentive for early retirement, proposing, in effect, to pay workers as much between 60 and 65 as they would be entitled to from both company pension and Social Security at age 65.

The companies offered to pay the full cost of group life and health insurance for active employees. The cost now is shared.

Good Friday would become a paid holiday at each firm.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics estimates the current average hourly wage in the auto industry as a whole is $3.01, but the Big Three claim their averages are higher.

The UAW adopted higher wages, increased pensions and earlier retirement among its top goals for 1964, but made no its demands for improved working conditions.

By CHARLES C. CAIN

DETROIT (AP) — A wide range of economic improvements, including higher wages, larger pensions and earlier retirement, were offered the United Auto Workers today by the industry's Big Three — General Motors, Ford and Chrysler.

For these, the companies proposed three-year contracts to replace similar ones expiring two weeks from today.

There was no comment from union sources, pending study, but UAW President Walter P. Reuther forecast beforehand the offers "will not be realistic."

Increased vacation and holiday pay also were offered by the automakers, along with a proposal to refund the tuition of any employees furthering their education through spare-time studies.

The offers, presented separately, virtually paralleled each other, as first company proposals did in 1961. The union never has accepted as final a first offer.

And Louis G. Seaton, GM vice president—personnel, told the union there was room for "give and take within the dimensions of our economic proposal," adding:

"We are flexible. If the UAW wishes to shift the emphasis from one area to another, or to propose modifications within the dimensions . . . we will examine their suggestions."

All three companies limited their offers to economic areas. No mention was made of at-the-plant working agreements which supplement the national contracts, and an area in which the union has raised some of its most strenuous demands thus far.

The counter-offers came after the UAW began polling its membership, seeking strike authorization if negotiators want to use it.

The offers consumed 20-odd typewritten pages.

Ford proposed flatly to continue the so-called annual improvement factor under which hourly rated workers receive an automatic 2.5 per cent yearly wage increase to compensate them for cost-saving technology

Paratroops Arrive for Congo Fight

By ROBIN MANNOCK

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Forty U.S. paratroopers landed here Thursday night to ride U.S. helicopters on rescue and support missions in the revolt-torn Congo.

U.S. Embassy officials in this capital say the paratroopers are not here for combat but to guard four C-130 transport planes supplied to Congolese forces.

The men and planes are viewed as an expanded U.S. effort to bolster the central Congo government against the spreading, Communist-backed rebel offensive.

The paratroopers are members of an airborne division from Fort Bragg, N.C.

Armed with light weapons, including grenade launchers and bazookas, the paratroopers were expected to fly missions close to rebel-held territory. Observers here believed they might have to fire on the rebels, to defend themselves.

Thursday night's American airlift was the first of what American officials predicted would be a series of emergency deliveries of military equipment to the Congo to check the rebel advance. The rebels control about one fourth of the Congo's territory.

City to Buy Land

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — The Pine Bluff Chamber of Commerce announced Saturday it would buy 850 acres of land near the Arkansas River and make it into an industrial park. W. H. Kennedy Jr., chamber president, said the land would cost $144,000.

cal advances—automation.

GM said its offer would raise wages 6 to 13 cents hourly over a three-year period, but did not specifically mention annual improvement factor.

Chrysler estimated its offer would add 6 to 12 cents hourly.

Indonesia Accused of Invasion

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP)—Malaysia accused Indonesia today of launching a small scale "invasion" of its western coast and clamped tight security measures on the west coast states of Johore, Malacca and Negri Sembilan.

The deputy premier and defense minister, Tun Abdul Razak, told a news conference 30 or 40 Indonesians plus a few Malaysians landed during the night on the swampy coastline of Southern Shore state.

He said police and troops clashed briefly with the invaders and captured 13. One Malaysian trooper was said to be wounded.

"Sudden Country" they called this. Gun country. Home to the fiddlefoot refuge of fiddle runners, desperadoes and tin horns, haven of saddle bums and all other disfranchised flotsam run out of more settled communities. A stamping ground of violence, this region, in the eyes of those who used it from choice, had a further advantage not easily come by. Hardly a pistol shot beyond rimming hills surged a boundary river, the Rio Colorado.

In the brush above town Frank Ives stared moodily at his big-knuckled hands. A child could have sensed the wildness. Looking down at those lemon sparks of light Ives faced the uncomfortable truths of his presence; the long miles behind, the grim uncertainties ahead. These were not things surprisedly discovered, nor had the passing hours diminished them. Familiarly he failed to breed the contempt he needed; life was still precious. And even out here at the back of beyond where owlhoots were thicker than clover on a ham a man didn't just ride up and say 'howdy'.

Danger and suspicion ran like a stench through these hills. And yet, even among such a verminous rabble there'd be a God-fearing few that could trip a man up if he didn't look lively. Frank Ives, still young but with a face that showed the marks of maturity had seen more than his share of life's uglier aspects. He'd come down a long spiral over crumbling ledges to get this near the bottom of the barrel, and evil companions had not been responsible. He had come of good blood, rugged frontier stock; he had been raised right.

A big-boned man in brush-clawed range clothes, he was heavy boned without being bulky, so well proportioned as to pass unremarked in a land where bigness was the robust standard and the gentler side of the two-legged population were either fallen doves or catalogue women sent West on approval. Arizona in this day was no place for weak hearts, or squeamish stomachs. Communications generally were considerably unreliable. In this quick tempered region, commonly reached by subterfuge, distrust and hate sprang full blown from a look, luck was staked on the turn of a card and life was something you took in both hands each time you stepped into or out of a door.

Ives sometimes thought it was knowing so much that had made a fool of him. No matter how case hardened or callous they might seem, few men become so inured or indifferent they can honestly without regret or grimace the tracks they've left behind. Ives was no exception. He had made mistakes—seldom bothered to hide them. A crack shot, strong willed, a free thinking rebel who had known what he was doing every inch of the way. Bad luck had no part in it. He had seen every milestone, recognized each turn. He had picked this route deliberately.

He put his sand colored gelding at a careful gait across a littered slope sparsely grown to mesquite. Shiny crescent leaves flung back the moon's light and the drab wands of wolf's candle began to appear here and there, stark and still against the cloudless sky, with the lonely sentinel shapes of lance-straight staffs above the dark vista of weather split outpeared to con signs for lodgings. Farther on he stiffened as the smash of heavy pistols beat against the night. On the far walk he saw a hatless man in the garb of a roustabout reel in to the shadows between two buildings, smoke wavering forward from the pistol about to slip from his hand. His knees let go and he fell out of sight.

Another case of slow Ives thought, looking around. The killer, just sheathing his gun, was a leather faced man in gambler's black. Rock solid, he seemed despite the tinhorn garb. Black angry eyes and a black close-cropped mustache below a nose that put Ives in mind of a culture were the prominent features of a face that ended in an undershot jaw that looked hard as an anvil.

Several bystanders made haste to get out of his path as the fellow went striding back into a deadfall whose ornate sign extending the full length of its front proclaimed the place to be The Buffalo Bull—San Benwick Prop. Ives heard a woman's hard laugh as the batwings swung shut behind the man.

The yellow horse moved Ives on down the street and presently fetched up before the Lone Star Coral & Feed, a kind of livery by the look of its pens and stack of baled hay.

As a matter of fact this was what he'd been hunting, though he did not immediately rein in to the runway dividing the pens. His knees stopped the horse while he twisted around for another long look back across the street where a tawny-haired girl in a man's rough garb was coming down the steps of a general store.

She seemed remarkable pretty in the light from its windows, slender, willowy, about five foot six—not the kind of woman you would think to find here at the tagend of nowhere. Her eyes were green and sharp enough to spot him; cool enough to return his stare before securing her sacked purchases behind the saddle of a flea-bitten gray. Ives pulses quickened as their eyes met and locked just before she swung up.

She rode off down the street, Ives motionless, watching her, something about his stare strangely wistful, still puzzled. Concerned, too, because when you got right down to the hard core of this deal he had no business even looking at a woman.

Disgruntled, even irritated, he was bending his shoulders to swing out of the saddle when

Misjudged Ball Gives Yankees a Victory

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Mel Stottlemyre made his second vital start Sunday for the New York Yankees during Flag Fortnight, and came off with his second victory.

This time the 22-year-old right-hander whipped the league-leading Baltimore Orioles 3-1. That moved the Yankees to within 2 games of the Orioles, and started Manager Yogi Berra talking pennant.

A misjudged outfield fly helped the Yankees to their first two runs in the game, and a double case of the outfield staggers figured in the 2-1 victory. The Chicago White Sox scored over the Red Sox at Boston.

The Chicago victory moved the second place White Sox to within two games of the top. The Yankees move on to Chicago now for four games that will wind up the two-week span during which they will have played the Orioles and White Sox 15 straight games.

In other American League games, Harmon Killebrew hit his 42nd homer as the Minnesota Twins trounced the Cleveland Indians 13-2. The Detroit Tigers walloped Kansas City 11-5 and Washington defeated the Los Angeles Angels 4-1.

In the National League, the New York Mets walloped first-place Philadelphia 12-4 and Milwaukee defeated second-place San Francisco twice, 5-4 and 10-2. The Los Angeles Dodgers shut out St. Louis before the Cardinals won the nightcap 4-0. Pittsburgh gained a split by beating Chicago 7-4 after the Cubs won the opener 5-4 and Cincinnati downed Houston 8-3.

Stottlemyre was called up from Richmond in the International League only last Tuesday in a mid-summer move to bolster the suddenly shaky Yankee pitching.

The next day he trimmed the White Sox 7-3, in a complete game. Sunday he went 8 2-3 innings — Al Downing came in and got the last out — in the decision over the Orioles.

If things keep on like that, Mel will have a starting job in the World Series in October. It was 1-0 going into the seventh when Oriole starter Milt Pappas had to retire when his right arm stiffened up. Steve Barber came in, and Roger Maris promptly sliced a double to left. He went to third when Tom Tresh singled to deep short. Luis Aparicio got his glove on the ball and would have thrown Maris out at third but he couldn't hold it.

Then with one on, pinch hitter Elston Howard lashed a liner to right. Sam Bowens lost it in the lights which had been turned on in mid-game on an overcast day and played it into a double, with two runs scoring. Boston center fielder Carl Yastrzemski misjudged flies by Floyd Robinson and Bill Skowron and both went for triples in the game with the White Sox. Skowron singled Robinson home in the first.

Jim Landis tripled to right in the third when Le Thomas staggered and fell retrieving the ball. Landis scored on a wild pitch by Ed Connolly.

Joel Horlen, with help from Hoyt Wilhelm, got the victory, as the White Sox wound up the season 14-4 over the Red Sox. Aolio Versalles also homered for the homer-happy Twins, while Woody Hall's homer in the eighth spoiled Jim Grant's bid for a shutout. The Twins swept the three-game series with the Indians, and Grant got his first victory over his old mates in three tries.

Dave Wickersham, traded to the Tigers by the A's before the season, posted his 14th victory, as Don Wert and George Thomas homered. The Athletics hit three homers. Rocky Colavito hit his 29th and Jim Gentile his 19th and 20th.

Arkansans Unbeaten in Region 4

MEMPHIS (AP) — Unbeaten Fort Smith, Ark., relaxed today as New Orleans, Jackson, Miss., Memphis and Houston battled in the third round of the Region 4 American Legion baseball tournament.

Fort Smith rode the three-hit pitching of Allen Johnson and alert base running to a 3-1 victory Sunday night over defending champion Memphis. New Orleans defeated Houston 8-1 and Jackson eliminated the Panama Canal Zone 7-0.

New Orleans met Jackson today and Houston plays Memphis tonight. The losers will be eliminated.

Fort Smith could play any of four teams Tuesday night.

Fort Smith scored three runs in the eighth on a single by Monte Wigh, a hit batsman, an error, a stolen base, squeeze bunts by Lyndon Morris and a double by Johnson to come from behind. Memphis scored an unearned run in the second.

Gary Eastburn, the loser, pitched a three-hitter also, striking out 10. Johnson struck out 11.

A bases loaded triple by John Arthurs and a single by Bob Brubacher that drove in two runs helped New Orleans to a six-run first inning against Houston. The Louisiana champions added two runs in the seventh as George Ditta struck out nine while giving up seven hits for the victory.

Tommy Morgan pitched a three-hitter as Jackson blanked Panama, eliminating the Canal Zone team. Panama has not won in three appearances in the Region 4 playoffs. Jerry Little smashed a 370-foot homer and had a double and single as Jackson picked up runs in the first, second and sixth innings. Joey Kirkland also had three hits.

Texarkana Team Wins State Title

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) — College Hill of Texarkana won the Arkansas Boys Baseball Association championship here Saturday by handing Liberty-Eylau of Texarkana its second defeat, 6-4, in the double elimination tournament.

The victory gave winning pitcher Ronnie Smith an undefeated season in the league for boys 12-12 years of age. Liberty-Eylau picked up three of its four runs in the first inning on three walks, and singles by Mike Burks and Jim Webster.

He added his last run in the fourth after Bo Malone doubled, advanced to third on a single by Mark Tyl and went home on an overcast day and played it into a double, with two runs scoring.

Boston center fielder Carl Yastrzemski misjudged flies by Floyd Robinson and Bill Skowron and both went for triples in the game with the White Sox. Skowron singled Robinson home in the first.

Jim Landis tripled to right in the third when Le Thomas staggered and fell retrieving the ball. Landis scored on a wild pitch by Ed Connolly.

Alworth Proves His Worth to Arkansas Fans

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Lance Alworth proved to his Arkansas football fans Saturday night that everything they've been hearing about him is true.

Alworth made the key pass receptions that led the San Diego Chargers to 44-38 victory over Houston in an American Football League exhibition game in War Memorial Stadium here.

It was a gala homecoming for Lance, who last was seen in person by his Arkansas fans when he played in a Razorback uniform. Since then, he has proved a sensation in the AFL as a flanker back—the major passing weapon in the Charger offensive arsenal when they won the league title last year.

Alworth signed a new Chargers contract before the game. Saturday night Lance caught nine passes for 140 yards and one touchdown. Three of those passes were from quarterback Tobin Rote in the last minute drive that won the game. The Rote-Alworth combination accounted for 35 of the 62 yards in the drive.

Fullback Keith Kinderman went over from the three with 1:12 left to bring San Diego from behind. The lead in the wild game changed hands five times.

The big play in the final touchdown drive was a 15-yard pass from Rote to Alworth to the Houston eight. Alworth caught it on a dive right across the middle.

But it wasn't his best catch of the night. That was a 49-yard touchdown heave from quarterback John Hadl on the last play of the first quarter. Alworth was six inches ahead of Houston defender Mark Johnston in a race down the sidelines. Hadl's pass was fingertip perfect, and Alworth had it at the goal line over his shoulder.

The Oilers put two men on Alworth in the clinches, but even that didn't do any good. He outmaneuvered Johnston again going across the middle for a 15-yarder to the Houston 47. That got the Charger's winning drive going.

The 2,000 fans that turned out on a murky night called the Hogs for Alworth with the same velocity as if Arkansas was playing Texas. And Lance appreciated it.

"I was afraid they weren't going to do it," he told newsmen later. He said he had warned his teammates about the chilling "woooo, pig soooey."

Danny Brabham, former Arkansas linebacker great who did an outstanding job as a line-backer for Houston Saturday night, complimented Alworth the Houston dressing room: "What can you say? He's the greatest there is."

Giants Drop Twin Bill While Phils Lose One

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Philadelphia Phillies lost a single game, the San Francisco Giants lost a doubleheader.

But a bit loser Sunday was Curt Flood—and he had eight hits.

While the National League's leading contenders were taking it on the chin, Flood was hitting it on the nose for the St. Louis Cardinals and threatening a record that was set when Baltimore was in the National League 70 years ago.

On Sept. 3, 1894, Baltimore outfielder Joe Kelley collected nine consecutive hits against Cleveland.

Flood, 26-year-old right-hander, collected four hits as the Cardinals bowled to the Los Angeles Dodgers and Sandy Koufax 3-0 in the opener of a doubleheader and reached the ninth inning of St. Louis' 4-0 nightcap triumph with a string of eight consecutive hits.

Flood, however, lost his opportunity by striking out against Ron Perranoski.

Flood, however, did become the first National League since Stan Rojek of Pittsburgh in 1948 to collect eight hits in a doubleheader. His four hits against Koufax also ranked among the top performances of the season.

Koufax hurled a three-hitter against the rest of the Cardinals as he posted his seventh shutout and 18th victory of the season, striking out 13 and lowering his earned run average to a league-leading 1.74.

The Phillies, meanwhile, were bombarded by the New York Mets 12-4 but still stretched their lead to 4 games over the second-place Giants, who dropped a doubleheader to Milwaukee 5-4 and 10-2.

In other NL action, Chicago's Cubs defeated Pirates took the second game 7-4 and Cincinnati belted Houston 8-3.

The New York Yankees knocked off American League-leading Baltimore 3-1, the Chicago

White Sox climbed to within two games of first place by edging Boston 2-1. Minnesota crushed Cleveland 13-2, Detroit battered Kansas City 11-5 and Washington downed the Los Angeles Angels 4-1.

Flood slammed a triple, two doubles and five singles against the Dodgers, collecting four hits in a game for the fifth and sixth time this season while lifting his average from .291 to .302.

Koufax, now 19-5, moved two days ahead of his 1963 pace when he won 25 games, tied Whitey Ford of the New York Yankees and Dean Chance of the Los Angeles Angels for the most shutouts in the majors and struck out 10 or more batters.

The Dodgers scored twice in the 61st time in his career. Dick Tracewski before Tommy the fifth on two walks and Tim Davis wrapped it up with a sixth inning homer.

Bobby Klaus led the Mets' 17-hit attack against the Phillies with four singles. He triggered a two-run first and started a three-run second and that proved enough. Galen Cisco, trounced for homers by Richie Allen and John Herrnstein won it for a 5-3 record.

The Braves got the job done on a pair of three-run homers that proved more productive than five bases empty blasts by the Giants. Eddie Mathews got the job done in the seventh inning of the opener while Gene Oliver produced in the nightcap for Milwaukee.

Willie Mays hit his 36th and 37th for the Giants in the opener while Willie McCovey and Orlando Cepeda also connected. Del Crandall homered in the second game.

The Cubs won the opener in the ninth when singles by Dick Bertell, Andre Rodgers and pinch hitter Jimmy Stewart produced the winning run off Pirate reliever Al McBean, who hadn't lost in 60 appearances dating back to July 27 last year.

The Pirates slammed 14 hits in the second game, including two-run homers by Donn Clemen and Bill Mazeroski.

Frank Robinson's two-run homer off Ken Johnson was the big blow for the Reds while Joey Jay checked the Colts on six hits for a 9-8 record.

Travelers Push Lead to Seven Games

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Travelers pushed their first-place lead in the Eastern Division of the Pacific Coast League to seven games with a doubleheader sweep over Indianapolis here Sunday.

Arkansas won both games in the last inning. The Travelers took the first one 7-4, and won the nightcap 4-3.

The first game, scheduled for seven innings, went an extra frame before Fred Walters unknotted the tie with a 3-run homer. That gave Bobby Locke his ninth victory against three losses.

In the second game, Morris Steevens had a shutout until the last frame of the seven-inning game. Ken Berry homered with two men on to tie it up.

Arkansas bounced back when Bill Heath singled, bringing home Norm Gigon and ending the game. Steevens' record is now 6-0.

The Travelers had a 3-0 lead on a two-run homer by Bill Sorrell in the third, and a fourth-inning double by Walters, which brought in another run.

In the first game, Ramon Conde put the Indians ahead in the first inning with a solo homer. But Bill Sorrell matched it in the bottom of the inning.

Minnie Minoso doubled in the fourth and scored after an infield hit and an infield out.

Costen Shockley blasted home No. 30 with one man on in the fourth, and another run came in when Lee Ella doubled.

Indianapolis scored twice in the fifth inning on four singles. Arkansas won it in the eighth on Walters' homer, with Bobby Malmkus and Shockey scoring ahead of him.
